Consent to Treatment

I, _____, hereby acknowledge that being treated with Oriental Medicine can include any of the following techniques:

1. Acupuncture – This is a safe treatment involving the insertion of tiny sterile (and disposable) needles through the skin which can produce a mild but temporary discomfort (usually achiness or soreness) at the acupuncture site. It can occasionally cause slight bleeding, and will rarely leave a bruise (not painful). Various styles and sizes of acupuncture needles will be inserted into my body at various depths and locations.
2. Heat treatments using Artemesia vulgaris (moxibustion) or a conventional heat lamp may be placed on or near any part of my body. For indirect moxibustion treatments, the moxa is placed on the head of a needle or on top of a barrier (such as a slice of ginger or salt) which rests on the skin. When direct moxa is used, a very tiny amount of moxa is placed directly on the skin. The heat generated from the moxa treatments may involve slight discomfort or leave a small blister or scar on the skin. With any type of heat, there is always risk of a burn.
3. Gua Sha is scraping on the skin using a smooth-edged instrument and may produce red or purple discoloration of the skin (similar to a bruise) which may remain for 1 to 7 days. There may also be a slight tenderness in the area treated.
4. A method called “cupping” involves placing glass cups over the skin to produce a vacuum and promote the circulation of “qi”, or energy, through the meridians. Cupping may also produce skin discoloration and tenderness 1 to 7 days after the treatment.
5. There is a technique called “bloodletting” which is rarely used, except for conditions with extreme heat, such as fever, sunburn, or swollen areas of the body. This treatment involves a slight prick at the fingers or toes to allow a few drops of blood to escape. This technique may also be used in cases of severe, local blood stagnation, such as in the case of surface varicose veins.
6. Electro-acupuncture may be performed in cases of pain or stagnation in order to facilitate the movement of qi and blood. This technique involves clipping a wire to the body of the needle in order to deliver a mild electrical current. I acknowledge that I may experience a slight buzzing or tingling sensation around the needle.
7. The practitioner may leave press-balls, press-tacks, press-seeds, intradermals, or magnets on my body. I will receive directions on how to care for, how to and when to dispose of the healing adjuncts.
8. There is a Japanese technique called “Manaka’s hammer” which involves a soft tapping on the skin with a small wooden hammer. This method is used to move the qi locally or in the channels and there are typically no side-effects from this treatment.
9. I may also receive herbal prescriptions or recommendations pertaining to nutrition, diet, exercise, or other life-style habits. I understand that I am not required to take these herbal substances but must follow the directions for administration and dosage if I do decide to take them. I am aware that certain adverse side-effects may result from taking these substances. These could include, but are not limited to: changes in bowel movement, abdominal pain or discomfort, and the possible aggravation of symptoms existing prior to herbal treatment. Should I experience any problems, which I associate with these substances, I should suspend taking them and call the clinic as soon as possible.

The acupuncture practitioner must be advised if the patient has a pacemaker or a bleeding disorder, might be pregnant, or has a contagious disease. If the patient has a potentially serious condition that is out of the practitioner's scope of practice, the patient will be referred to the emergency room or to a licensed physician with regard but not limited to : cardiac conditions including uncontrolled hypertension; acute, severe abdominal pain; acute undiagnosed neurological changes; unexplained weight loss or gain in a three month period; suspected fracture or dislocations suspected systemic infections; any serious undiagnosed hemorrhagic disorder; and acute respiratory distress without previous history.

I have been informed that I have the right to refuse any form of treatment and that I have the right to terminate our treatments at any time. I understand the nature of the treatment, have been informed of the risks and possible consequence involved with this treatment, and was given the opportunity to ask questions pertaining to my treatment. I also understand that there is always the possibility of unexpected complication and I understand that no guarantee can be made concerning the results of the treatment. I am aware that acupuncture, oriental medicine, or alternative care does not substitute appropriate advice and care from a licensed medical doctor.

I have carefully read and understand all of the above information and am fully aware what I am signing, I give my permission and consent to treatment.

Notice of Privacy Practices

This Notice explains how our office may use and disclose your protected health information and your rights regarding how we protect your health information. "Protected health information," including demographics, can be reasonably used to identify you, relates to your past, present or future physical or mental health condition, the provision of care to you, or the payment for that care. We reserve the right to change the terms of this Notice and our privacy policy at any time. Any changes will apply to all protected health information that we maintain effective the date of a new Notice. New Notices will be posted at Stephanie Petix Willard, LAc clinic and you may obtain one at any time. This Notice goes into effect February 3, 2008.

Uses and Disclosures

We may use and disclose your health information for different reasons.

- Treatment: To assist in your diagnosis and treatment.
- Payment: In order to bill and collect payment for services provided. For example, to claims processing companies, others that participate in the claims payment process and your health insurance plan to get reimbursed for services.
- Health Care Operations: For activities necessary such as quality management, utilization review, anti-fraud and claims payment, provider credentialing activities, and as required by industry or government regulators such as state licensing boards, insurance regulatory agencies, and the sponsor of your health plan.

Our office may not use or disclose any more of your protected health information than is necessary to accomplish the purpose of the use or disclosure, except for treatment purposes.

We must disclose, when required by law, for the following examples:

- Avoid threat to health or safety. To law enforcement personnel or persons able to prevent or lessen a serious threat to public safety.
- Coroners, Funeral Directors, Organ Donation. To said professionals such that they can carry out their duties.
- Health oversight activities. To assist the government agencies, such as when it conducts an investigation or inspection of a health care organization.
- Health-related benefits or services. For appointment reminders or to give you information about treatment alternatives or services that may be of interest to you.
- Law Enforcement, judicial and administrative proceedings. In response to a subpoena, discovery request, in response to a warrant, to identify or locate a suspect, to provide information about a victim of a crime, or other lawful process.
- National security and intelligence. As required by military officials for security and military purposes.
- Public health activities. To public health agencies for reasons such as preventing or controlling disease, injury or disability.
- Research. For medical research – Such circumstances include taking steps to protect your privacy.
- Victims of abuse, neglect or domestic violence. To government agencies and law enforcement personnel as required by law.
- Workers' compensation. In compliance with workers' compensation laws.

Authorization

Any uses or disclosures other than those described above will be made only with your prior written authorization, unless otherwise permitted or required by law. In the event that you authorize us to use your protected health information for other uses, you have the right to revoke any authorization by delivering a written revocation statement, except to the extent that we have already disclosed the information or are allowed by law to use the information to contest a claim or coverage

Patient Rights

Right to request restrictions on uses and disclosures: To request a restriction, please write a request to Portland Alternative Medicine. Upon receiving your request, we will put the limits and terms in writing and abide by them except in emergency situations. You may not limit the uses and disclosures that we are legally required to make.

Right to receive confidential communications: This includes the right to direct where communications are sent. For example, you may request that information be sent to our work address rather than your home address or via Email than by regular mail. To verify or modify where or how you would like communication sent, contact Stephanie Petix Willard, LAc. Unless requested otherwise, we will direct mailings and telephone messages to the address/telephone number we have on record.

Right to inspect and copy. Includes the rights to see and get copies of your information that we maintain. Submit your request in writing to Stephanie Petix Willard, Lac, and we will respond to you within 30 days of receipt of your written request. We will charge you a reasonable copying fee for each page and mailing costs but will inform you of that fee in advance.

Right to amend: If you believe there is a mistake or missing information, you have the right to request that we correct or add to your file. You must provide the request in writing to Stephanie Petix Willard, LAc. We will respond within 60 days of receipt of your written request. We may deny your request in writing if your information is 1) correct and complete, 2) not created by us, 3) not allowed to be disclosed, or 4) not part of our records. Upon approval, we will make the changes, inform you when the changes are complete, and inform others that need to know about the change in a timely manner. Our written denial will state the reason for the denial and explain your right to file a written statement of disagreement with the denial. You also have the right to request that copies of your initial request and our denial be attached to all future disclosures of your information.

Right to receive an accounting of disclosures. This will not include uses or disclosures made for treatment, payment or health care operations, disclosures made directly to you, those you have already authorized, those made for national security reasons or to law enforcement that has lawful custody over you. We will respond within 60 days of receiving written request. Please include the time period for which you want the accounting (can be no longer than 6 years and may not include dates before April 14, 2003). The accounting will include the date of the disclosure, to whom information was sent, a brief description of the information disclosed, and a brief statement of the purpose for the disclosure. We will provide the first accounting at no charge. For additional accountings, we may charge you a fee but will inform you of that fee in advance.

Right to get a paper copy of this Notice. At any time even if you previously agreed to receive an electronic copy.

Right to file a complaint. If you believe your health information has been improperly used or disclosed, or that your privacy rights have been violated, you may file a privacy complaint with us. Contact Stephanie Petix Willard, LAc to file a complaint. You also have the right to file a complaint with the Secretary of the US Department of Health and Human Services. We will take no retaliatory action against you if you file a complaint with us or the DHHS.
